PRESS RELEASE

CAPITAL JET CENTER OPENS AT YEAGER AIRPORT (CRW)

As of 3:00 PM today, the fixed-base operation (FBO), or private terminal, at CRW will be known as Capital Jet Center and will be owned and operated by Yeager Airport.

The Central West Virginia Regional Airport Authority's Board of Members voted to buy-out the remainder of the lease with previous operator, Executive Air Terminal Inc., in July. This business decision will allow Yeager Airport to move forward with certain enhancements of the general aviation area at CRW, and ensure the highest level of safety and customer service to the general aviation community.

"We look forward to welcoming long-time customers as well as new general aviation enthusiasts to Capital Jet Center at CRW," reports Yeager Airport Director, Terry D. Sayre.

For more information about Capital Jet Center's offerings, see yeagerairport.com/capitaljetcenter.

Yeager Airport is responsible for an annual economic impact of $174,662,309, adding 1,876 full time equivalent jobs, and is critical to the economy of the area. Four airlines service the airport, providing eight nonstop destinations and serving 425,000 passengers, annually.
