EMERGENCY PAVEMENT REPAIR AT YEAGER AIRPORT

Yeager Airport (CRW) is currently facing a pavement issue on Runway 5/23 approximately 2,200 feet from the end of the runway. West Virginia Paving and engineers are on site to mitigate the issue. Though, a repair could take a few hours. “We would like to apologize to our traveling customers for any inconvenience this may cause, but the safety of our passengers is our number one priority,” said Airport Director, Terry Sayre.

The airport is currently closed and will remain closed until the issue is resolved. Passengers should check with airlines before departing for the airport.
