FELONY ARREST MADE AFTER RENTAL CARS VANDALIZED

Anntonia Lipscomb is being charged with felony destruction of property after five rental cars were found spray painted and scratched in the rental car garage Saturday morning.

“Our officers reviewed the security footage of the garage,” said Yeager Airport Police Chief Eric Johnson. “They were able to get a license plate number of the suspects car, and found Lipscomb to be responsible for the possession of the vehicle.”

The surveillance video shows Lipscomb, along with three other people, driving a Chevrolet Lumina into the rental car garage at 5:00 p.m. and pointing at different cars. An hour later, the video shows the car returning, and one man getting out of the back seat of the car. Police say that’s when he starts vandalizing the rental vehicles.

“The incident remains under investigation, and future arrests are pending,” stressed Johnson. “Anyone with any information is urged to contact Yeager Airport Police at 304-344-5158.”

The total damage to the cars is around $5,000.
